

"Clever idea for hands-free bathing!"

I bought one of these from a high street store just before my 2nd son was born.

Its basically a towel with a hood at one and end poppers at the other to attach around mum/dad's neck.

I was fairly confident bathing my 2nd son but I would imagine it would be great for 1st time mums and slippery wet new babies can be a bit scary!

You do look a bit silly wearing it but it does the job!
